Salvation Army will break ground

A new citadel and activity center for the Salvation Army here is to be built this year, and groundbreaking ceremonies are being arranged, Steve Bristol, advisory board chairman, said Friday. An immediate start on the project is planned.

The building is to be located on East 23rd Street on property purchased from Udeli Hirschfeld. It will serve the Salvation Army in the southern half of Madison County.

A fund drive to finance the project was announced twice at kickoff dinners and then postponed. Later, the campaign was carried out on a more informal basis, with $200,000 sought in pledges, bequests, work and construction materials.

Busy candidates point with pride, view with alarm

By GARY SCHNEIDER

Press-Record Staff Writer

With only one month remaining until the March 16 primary election, members of the Granite City Democrat Club as of last week were given an opportunity to meet most of the candidates for county and state offices, to aid them in making their choices of who to support in the coming weeks.

Nineteen Democratic candidates, and representatives of three other candidates, appeared at the club's "Candidates' Night" in the Knights of Columbus Hall to assess their campaigns thus far, and to seek support for their candidacies. Each candidate was given five minutes to speak on his platform and qualifications. The mood remained friendly with few direct accusations made about opponents.

As one member of the audience commented before the meeting, "A lot of us may have our differences of opinions now, but after March 16 we will all be looking again as Democrats." Five of the six candidates for two Democratic state representative posts from the 56th Legislative District, including the incumbents, were on hand and spoke.

Incumbent Joe E. Lucoo of Edwardsville was the first of the five to address the gathering of about 100 persons. Lucoo said the current distrust of politics and politicians is unfounded in most cases. "I don't see anything wrong with being in politics. I have kept my word to the people who elected me," he said.

Lucoo also commented he has been a full-time representative and, as a freshman legislator, started directly to work. "I haven't got the time to listen and learn. I've been a man of my word. I've been loyal," he stated.

Lucoo noted his endorsements by the Madison County Central Democratic Committee and said he hopes Canteen Township will again endorse him. "I try to represent all of the district," he added.

He also commented on his labor endorsements, saying he is running with Sam Wolf, who also has received the endorsement of local labor leaders.

Lucoo said he serves on several committees in the 56th Legislative District, in-

Increase in GC crimes in 1975

Crime in eight categories—ranging from petty larceny to murder—rose sharply in Granite City during 1975 to a total of 2,452 cases, the annual report of Chief of Police Ronald Veizer showed today.

The Police Department's 1975 crime load was an increase of 63 cases, or 2.7 percent, over the total of 2,772 major crimes occurring during 1974.

The report listed a total of 67 robberies last year, an increase of 30, or 45 percent, over 37 robberies reported during 1974. At the same time, the crime report said that police cleared 740 of all cases in 1975 by arrests. This was 226 more cases than the 514 solved during 1974—or an increase of 43 percent. Police also cleared 943 other cases, up 134, or 16.5 percent, over the 809 other cases solved in 1974.

Percentage-wise, the largest crime increase was in the four criminal homicides occurring in 1975, an increase of three, or 300 percent, over the one murder case reported during 1974.

Criminal activity in 1975 was in sharp contrast to that of 1974 which, at the end of the year, showed a reduction of 142 cases in all eight crime categories, or 4.8 percent, below the 1973 statistics.

According to Veizer's report, there were six forcible rape cases during 1975, up one, or 20 percent, over five such cases in 1974.

Assault cases occurring during 1975 totaled 307, the report showed, an increase of 39 other cases, up 134, or 16.5 per-

Stancic wounded by shotgun blast

Roy Stancic, 49, of 400a State St., Madison, suffered critical shotgun wounds of the head at 12:30 a.m. Sunday, while driving at Lindberg Boulevard and Highway 40 in St. Louis County.

He was rushed to St. John's Mercy Hospital, where his condition today is critical.

Mr. Stancic and a woman companion had left a restaurant a short time before the shooting. A shotgun was discharged from a passing auto, the blast going through the left front window and striking Mr. Stancic on the left side of the head. The woman suffered a shoulder injury and was given hospital treatment.

An investigation is being directed by Creve Coeur authorities. It is believed that the shotgun was fired from a blue four-door sedan, a 1968 Dodge Coronet. Efforts to trace it are continuing.

Creve Coeur police received what first was believed to be an auto accident report and requested aid from Ladue police in handling it.

The Creve Coeur officers at the time were investigating an armed robbery that had just taken place on the parking lot of the Jack Kane Restaurant, 839 S. Lindbergh.

The bandits had robbed two other persons and may have feared that the persons in the Concern here on state's new school policies

Concern is developing in Madison Community Unit School District 12 over action Thursday at Springfield by the State Board of Education, which adopted new rules intended to further reduce racial segregation within a school system.

Extensive steps have been taken by the district in the past, and there is widespread distribution of students among the schools. Construction of a sixth-seventh-eighth grades school, authorized in a 1975 referendum, is expected to make further progress possible. However, state officials indicate that these factors are regarded as insufficient.

A spokesman said the new rules, if fully enforced, ultimately could terminate all state and federal school funds for 13 Illinois districts, including Madison and Cahokia, and possibly 34 districts altogether.

The board is to vote Feb. 26 on whether to cite the 13 for substantial non-compliance with the new guidelines, which require that the racial composition of all schools within a district must reflect—within 15 percent—that of all other schools in that system.

Twenty-one other districts, including Alton and East St. Louis, are listed by the state as having less serious segregation problems that nevertheless must be solved in order for the districts to comply with the guidelines. Of this group, six have moved closer to developing satisfactory assignment plans, state administrators told the board Thursday.

The new guidelines, approved 12-1, are to become effective in ten days.

The board on Thursday also approved a record $1,890,000 elementary and secondary education budget for the 1976-77 school year. Subject to approval by the legislature and Governor, the budget includes $1,350,000 to fully finance the present state school aid formula.

The State Board of Education at its December meeting designated 34 districts out of the 1,029 in the state, saying that 21 needed to develop new desegregation plans and that 13 required comprehensive new plans.

The new enforcement rules would permit the board to end state funds and also "decline to accept or expand federal funds available" for any school system not in compliance with state guidelines after a one-year probationary period.

The Madison school district has not yet received word of officially or unofficially on the Clinic tries aggressive approach

Once a relatively low-profile enterprise, the Hope Clinic for Women at 1902 Twenty-First Street in Granite City has adopted an aggressive public relations approach and is seeking to become known through a wide area of the Midwest.

Describing it as "an outpatient surgical center for the physical and emotional needs of women," the clinic staff says the services include counseling, abortion and voluntary sterilization.

Originally known as Hopemed, the clinic has been a subject of controversy and from time to time has been picketed by women opposed to it. Nevertheless, the Hope Clinic for Women is advertising far and wide and is distributing brochures highlighting its 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday-to-Saturday hours and stressing that "we welcome inquiries and requests for additional information."

Laura Moody, a registered nurse listed as the clinic's executive director, says, "We have dedicated ourselves to solving the special problems faced by women—unplanned pregnancies, pregnancy termination and pregnancy avoidance."

"We try to solve these special problems in more than just a physical way. We think that a woman's emotional well-being is equally as important as her physical well-being."

"Our doctors, nurses, technicians and counselors are trained to help patients find the right decision for the right reasons."

Three Utah physicians have just spent several days in Granite City as guests of the Hope Clinic.

Dr. Grant P. Bagley, M.D., Dr. David A. Hansen, M.D., and Dr. L. G. Sotiriou, M.D., gynecologists on the staff of the University of Utah Medical Center, visited the clinic to watch Medical Director Hector N. Zevallos, M.D., perform a laparoscopic tubal sterilization, and to familiarize themselves with his operative technique.

"Tubal sterilization is called a relatively new method of permanent birth control which Aviation in state's past - and future?

(14th of a Bicentennial year Press-Record series)

The regional airport issue is still producing headline news in 1976, and the general subject of aerial flight has been in the spotlight in this state for nearly all of Illinois' 158-year history. Like Icarus in Greek mythology, Illinoisans almost from the start wanted to soar above the ground.

The first aviator in the state was Silas M. Brooks, who made a balloon ascent from Chicago on July 4, 1855.

Thomas Scott Baldwin demonstrated the flexible parachute over his home town of Quincy in 1877. Charles Duryea of Peoria, destined to become famous as an inventor of the automobile, wrote in the mid-1880s that "the time will come when the humming of flying machines will be music over all lands; when Europe will be distant but a half day's journey; and when all peoples will be brothers in their social and business relations."

Dirigibles appeared in Chicago in the late 1890s. Octave Chanute, a retired railroad engineer from Chicago, organized the first offers a number of advantages over earlier procedures.

"The trip by Dr. Bagley, Dr. Hansen, and Dr. Solirino is the direct result of a talk on the subject given by Dr. Zevallio in November in Las Vegas at the Second International Congress of Gynecologic Endoscopy and the American Association of Gynecologic Laparoscopists. "Often referred to as 'bandaid surgery,' because of its relative simplicity, tubal sterilization is growing in popularity; 60,000 operations were performed in the United States in 1974, and over 80,000 in 1975.

"At the Gynecologic Congress in Las Vegas, the procedure was considered the best choice for women who no longer desire to have children, particularly women over 38 where oral contraceptives can lead to a higher incidence of side effects."
"Tubal sterilization can be performed in 15 minutes under a local anesthetic on an outpatient basis. Normal activity can be resumed the same day," the spokesman related.

Granite City Steel, a division of National Steel Corporation, is the largest steel producer in the St. Louis metropolitan area.

Eisenbeis started at Granite City Steel in 1969 as a junior industrial engineer. He worked as an operations analyst and became assistant production manager in 1969.
He is a 1964 graduate of St. Louis University, receiving a bachelor of science degree in industrial engineering, and a 1969 graduate of Washington University, with a master's degree in business administration.
He was an officer in the Air Force from 1964 to 1967.

Arrests may solve 4 robberies

Charges filed against two Granite City men may lead to the clearing of four armed robberies here Tuesday and Wednesday last week, local authorities said today.

Doris Tom Raynor Jr., 28, of 2237 Delmar Ave., and Michael Kosach, 24, of 307 Kirkpatrick Homes, were stopped by Madison police following three armed robberies in the Quad-City area Wednesday and were charged Friday with jointly participating in two of the armed robberies.
They also were charged with individually participating in one armed robbery each last week while Kosach walked in the car and drove Raynor from the scene.

They also are charged with robbing the Ridgeland Confectionery, 2500 Nameoki Road, and change. She then fled on foot.

Wednesday, Feb. 11, taking about $50. Again, Raynor is charged with being the armed robber while Kosach drove the getaway car, according to the criminal complaints.

Raynor also is charged with armed robbery early Wednesday at Jerry's Tavern, 1334 Madison Ave., Madison, in which between $75 and $100 was taken from a barmaid.
Kosach is charged with the other robbery Wednesday, when less than $100 was taken from an attendant at the Clark Service Station, Highway 111 and 162. A description of the auto leaving the scene of that robbery led to the car being stopped in Madison.

FIND STOLEN CAR
The auto of Robert Brewer, Fairmont City, reported at 12:30 a.m. today as stolen from the 2100 block of Washington Avenue, was found later this morning by Illinois State Police at Low Water Dam on the Mississippi River. The car had been burned, it was reported.

A resolution proposing a flat yearly salary of $5,000 for each Madison County Board member is on the board's agenda for 9:30 a.m. Wednesday.

Illinois officials said Friday work on the substructure for the first of two proposed bridges to replace the Jefferson Barracks Bridge could start as early as July 1977.

A federal grand jury is probing charges that some dentists treating welfare patients have defrauded the Illinois Public Aid Department by submitting bills for filling teeth already extracted and by filing multiple claims for the same work, some done by unlicensed assistants. Chicago and East St. Louis are centers of the investigation.

The East-West Gateway Coordinating Council decided Friday to ask the U.S. to reject a Health Systems Agency application for $1,000,000 to create and operate a new health coordinating procedure. Illinois' Medicaid program has contributed to the Walker's "record as the worst manager of state government in Illinois history," his primary election foe, Michael J. Hoviet, alleged Saturday. The state Public Aid Department said today it has suspended four workers, laboratories and five doctors from the Medicaid program due to allegedly fraudulent billing practices and illegal kickbacks from laboratories to doctors in return for their business.

Pres. Robert W. O'Leary of the Illinois Hospital Association criticized the governor during the weekend for an alleged slowdown of state payments for Medicaid services provided by 280 hospitals throughout the state.

Bowling three games in the round, the Steelerettes knocked out a total of 1,900 pins but failed to be one of 16 schools advancing into the second round.

Abingdon High knocked over the most pins in the opening round, 2,388, an average of 159 a game. North High's Connie Acosta got the most pins for her team, 414, and also took high game honors with a 153.

Other GCHS North bowlers who competed at Peoria were Tammie Ambuehl, Mary Brooks, Janine Roe and Stephanie Williams, one ounce each. Coach Papa commented that the girls did well; none had been members of North High's state team last year.

Two autos and a pickup truck were stolen in Granite City Friday.

John Frazier, reported at 11:40 a.m. Friday that his 1973 green Chevrolet Monza was stolen while he was delivering flowers to the residence at 2235 Lincoln Ave.

Rickey Cooper, 4900 Mueller Ave., reported at 10:45 p.m. that his red 1963 Volkswagen was stolen from the Tri-Mor Bowl parking lot.

George Siler, of 3128 Rogers St., reported to police at 11:29 p.m. Friday that while his 1974 red Ford pickup with an all white camper and wood-grain trim, was stolen from in front of the Mexican Hall, 1801 Spruce St.

Frazier's auto was recovered in Gurney County, Ohio, Sunday and a Granite City man, 21-years-old, is being held for the possible filing of charges.

It is believed the man drove the car to Ohio to visit a friend who had been in the armed services with him. The friend's mother became suspicious and called sheriff's deputies there, giving them the car's license number.

When they found the car was stolen, they went to the house and arrested the man.

Car hits fence and residence

An auto driven by Joe S. Bohnenstiel, 21, of 2425 Pontoon Road, traveling north on Kilarney, allegedly passed a stop sign at Emert Avenue, crossed the intersection, went through a 125-foot lot, knocked down a chain link fence and damaged the back yard at the home of George Willaredt, 2338 Gary Ave., then striking the Willaredt home at 2:20 a.m. Saturday.

Bohnenstiel was charged with criminal damage to property, reckless driving and disobeying a stop sign.

Neighbor alerts police, 2 arrested in burglary

A 20-year-old youth faces multiple charges resulting from the burglary of the home of Ray Lux, 2800 Michigan Ave., between 7 p.m. and 8 p.m. Saturday, because of an alert neighbor.

Bobby E. Hughes, 20, of East St. Louis, has been charged with possession of cannabis, burglary, unlawful use of a driver's license and driving an auto with one headlight.

Mark Anthony Stram, 20, of Belleville, faces burglary charge.

Police arrested the pair at Benton and Michigan avenues after seeing a 1963 white Chevrolet that had been described to police when a neighbor saw it in the alley.

Two persons apparently pried open a glass sliding door to gain entry to the Lux home and left by the front door.

They attempted to steal an RCA color television, three guns, portable radio and several coins.

Police reported they found burglary tools in the auto.

The youths are being held in the Granite City Jail pending court action.

Charge driver

William Margrave, 20, of 1407 Rhodes St., was injured when his car struck the stopped auto of Ronald Lewis, 1415 Rhodes St., in the 1400 block of Rhodes Street at 2 a.m. Sunday.

It is alleged Margrave's auto was traveling at a high rate of speed when it struck the stopped car. Margrave was charged with careless driving.

He went to St. Elizabeth Hospital where he was admitted with a cut to his forehead.

Stancie

Stancie car had seen them and could possibly identify them. The robbery car sped from the restaurant lot and caught up with the Stancie car, enabling the shooting to occur, police believe.

The passenger, whom authorities declined to identify at this time, suffered only minor injuries. She and Stancie had dined at the Kane Restaurant. She said she heard what sounded like an explosion, and the next thing she knew the car went out of control, crashing into the side of an underpass at the intersection. The vehicle bounced off a guard rail and came to a stop.

Investigation showed the shotgun pellets had shattered the window next to the steering wheel.

Faces 3 charges

Richey O. Hill, 23, St. Louis, was charged with resisting arrest, intoxication and disorderly conduct following a disturbance at 3:50 a.m. Saturday in the parking lot of Charlie's Restaurant, 3120 Nameoki Road.

Police said they were called by restaurant owner Charles Hester about a man who earlier had been told to leave the restaurant but was still in the lot, allegedly making threats.

Police said they asked the man several times to leave the parking lot, but he refused and became abusive.

When officers arrested him he allegedly refused to get into the police car and force was used.

They Thought He Said, "Fire!"

Snowballs and Musketballs...

□ The lone British sentry of the 29th regiment retreated from the snowballs thrown by the young boys who were quickly joined by a group of abusive toughs from the harbor.

A squad of Redcoats rushed from the barracks to reinforce the sentry. As they were pelted with snowballs and missiles an officer appeared before the line of troops, desperately trying for control by pushing aside muskets and bayonets.

He shouted to his men... "Do not fire!...Do not fire!" In the confusion, one soldier heard only the word "Fire!" and pulled the trigger. Quickly a ragged volley of shots rang out. Five dead and several wounded lay in the melting snow of King Street.

This single event crystallized the hatred of the colonists and the Revolutionary War followed five years later. The officer?...Captain Preston. The time? The night of March 5, 1770. The event? The now famous...Boston Massacre.

Student loan refund policy

A prorated refund policy applicable to recipients of federal guaranteed student loans at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville was ratified Thursday by the SIU Board of Trustees. The policy was implemented Jan. 1 as required by federal regulations. University officials explained that regulations administered by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare require educational institutions participating in guaranteed loan programs to provide a prorated tuition and fees refund schedule in the event a recipient withdraws from the university. The schedule provides for refunds ranging from 100 per cent in the first two weeks of the term to a 40 per cent refund, less a service charge not greater than $100 in the fifth and sixth weeks of the term. No refund will be granted after the sixth week.

The resolution authorizes the president of SIUE to establish applicable service charges from time to time in accordance with regulatory fees existing under the university's Code of Policy.

Winterfest to begin

As winter begins to thaw, frivolity complements student life at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville with the celebration of Winterfest on Feb. 18-21. Highlighting the annual festival will be a number of bands and guest entertainers, plus a variety of games, contests and films.

"Incredible feats of strength and endurance" performed by The Iron Men will lead the events Wednesday at 11 a.m. in the Goshen Lounge. Following the show, contestants will test their marksmanship in a penny pitching contest and later their speed and skill at cigarette rolling.

"Schultz Movie Orgie," a composite of film segments from old movies and television series, and a concert by Woodrose also will be presented Wednesday.

On Thursday, the contests will come into full swing as participants compete to be the one who can eat the most eggs, best imitate Tarzan's yell or create the most innovative or believable excuse for missing a class. Others may choose to match their wits against a computer that has been programmed for such games as tic-tac-toe, chess and checkers. The day's musical fare includes a country-rock concert by Roadapples, a dance and concert by Shotgun, and a Boston street singer, Stephen Baird, who will perform as he strolls through the campus lounges.

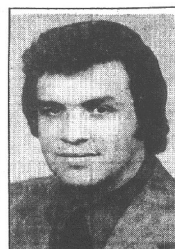

On Thursday evening, a show of comedy and satire will be performed by Ron Douglas in the Meridian Ballroom.

Highlighting Friday's activities, ice sculptors will exhibit their talent on 300-pound blocks of ice. Student organizations will set up carnival booths offering a variety of games, and a contest will give men the opportunity to test their best conversational line on a panel of women. Griffin will provide musical entertainment for the afternoon.

The Late Nighter edition of Winterfest on Friday will include two dances, one featuring Faust and Effic and the other Creed. A Three Stooges film festival and "horse racing at Cougar downs."

Winterfest is presented by the Major Events Council of SIUE. Information regarding time, contest registration and ticket prices may be obtained by contacting the Major Events Office (692-3890) or Campus Information (692-2739).

Funds sought for new police group

A formal request to include $9,600 in the Nameoki Township revenue sharing budget for establishment of a volunteer police unit in the Miracle Manor area was presented to the Nameoki Town Board of Auditors last week.

A petition signed by many residents of the area, supporting the establishment of such a unit, also was submitted. Terrell E. Nichols, Steve Szadai and Joseph J. Garcia already have received a not-for-profit corporation charter from the state for the Nameoki Volunteer Police Department, which lists its temporary address at Nichols' home, 2132 Miracle Ave.

About six volunteers have completed training with the Madison County Sheriff's Department which has qualified them for appointment as "supervisors of safety" under the sheriff.

The group is attempting to follow the steps taken by State Park Police Unit 33A, which was disbanded when the former "special deputy" commissions were ruled illegal, and was re-established when the supervisor of safety category was established.

The State Park volunteers noted they had enough public support to pay for continued operations, if Nameoki Township would help them get started.

Nameoki Township gave them a revenue sharing grant of $9,500 to purchase a squad car, uniforms, radios, and other necessary equipment.

The department is to be sustained by volunteer donations from businesses and individuals in State Park Place as well as money raised through community activities.

Nameoki Township had been reluctant to offer a similar grant to the Miracle Manor area group, indicating it wanted proof the group would be supported by the community after it was established.

A petition drive in Nameoki Township precincts 3, 5 and 11 was started in which residents were asked to show their approval of the proposed police unit and were requested to sign pledges for annual donations to keep the department operating. Along with the petitions and the request for the $9,600 grant, the charterers of the proposed police department presented the town board with a list of items needed, including a squad car, radios, uniforms and other necessities.

Nichols said in a letter to the board that the public support shown during the recent petition drive is a good indication that the department can be self-supporting.

He said he is sure the department could raise enough money to purchase the car and necessary equipment without the grant, but it would take a few years.

He said the period of time needed to raise the money would waste "too much precious time that could cost the life of a neighbor or a child."

The auditors referred the request to the Finance Committee to consider whether the request can be fitted into the revenue sharing budget now being prepared for the fiscal year which begins March 1.

Calloway at Ford fund party here on Thursday

The Illinois President Ford Committee reports that Howard H. "Bo" Calloway, national campaign chairman for the President Ford Committee, will be in Madison County Thursday for a cocktail party to raise money for the Ford campaign.

Gerald B. Cohn, finance chairman of the Illinois Ford committee in the 23rd Congressional District, said the party will be held at Tony's Restaurant, Mitchell, on Highway 203 just south of Interstate 270, on Feb. 19 from 6 to 8 p.m. Tickets are $10 per person and can be purchased by calling the Ford Headquarters at 377-8255. Tickets also will be available at the door.

The public is being invited to meet and talk with Calloway, who in addition to being President Ford's national campaign chairman, has served as U.S. Secretary of the Army and prior to that was a Republican congressman from Georgia.

Review for doctoral degree accreditation

An evaluation team from the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools (NCA) will visit Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, March 10-12, to conduct a review with the objective of raising the level of accreditation to a doctoral granting institution.

A report given to the SIU Board of Trustees on Thursday related that the evaluation team, organized by Dr. Patricia A. Thrash, associate executive director of the Commission on Institutions of Higher Education of the NCA, is composed of eight educators from institutions outside Illinois.

A final decision on accreditation is expected from the NCA in late summer or early fall. The university requested doctoral level accreditation by the NCA following approval by the Illinois Board of Higher Education for a doctor of education degree program at SIUE in the instructional process in November 1974.

The NCA agreed to undertake the necessary evaluation review but broadened the objectives of the evaluation to make it comprehensive in scope because the last NCA visit to the campus occurred in 1969. To comply with a preliminary process required by the NCA, the University Office of Vice-President and Provost launched an internal review in the spring of 1975 and has issued an institutional self-study report prepared by Earl Beard, professor of history and former dean of the School of Social Sciences. The report focuses attention on the doctoral degree program in education but it extends to all program levels, including the professional degree in dental medicine.

Melody Gibson becomes Mrs. Michael Hooper

Hurricane aisle candles, branched candelabra forming an arch and baskets of white roses and stephanotis decorated the Assembly of God Church, Maryville, Ill., for the wedding of Jan. 24 of Miss Melody Gibson and Michael Hooper.

The bride is a daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Jesse Gibson, Edwardsville. Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Austin Daniel Hooper, 3121 Jill Ave.

The Rev. Gibson, father of the bride, and the Rev. Vernon Covington of Florissant, Mo., officiated at the 7 p.m. double ring ceremony in the presence of 450 guests.

Bill Rainwater of Grenada, Miss., and Mrs. Janice Morgan of Maryville, accompanied by Doug Gilland at the organ, sang "One Alone," "One Hand, One Heart," "If," "I'll Be There for You," "If," "I'll Be There for You," "If," "I'll Be There for You."

Maid of honor was Miss Toyi Gibson, a sister of the bride, and bridesmaids included Mrs. Cindy Durham, Mrs. Beverly Turner and Miss Denise Highlander. The groom's sister, Shannon Hooper, was the junior bridesmaid and Stephanie Aske served as flower girl.

The honor attendant and junior bridesmaid wore coral blue chiffon gowns and the attendants and flower girl wore emerald green chiffon dresses.

Empire in style, the brides were accented with high necklines defined with white Venise lace and ribbon. The lace and ribbon created the square yokes and trimmed the cuffs of the full bishop sleeves.

Each girl carried a nosegay of roses tipped in blue and white and the flower girl held a white basket of roses with touches of green.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a white silk organza gown enhanced with Belgium and Nottingham lace. The high stand-up lace collar and bib yoke were embellished with seed pearls.

The beaded trim accented the lace sleeves and also the bouffant circular skirt and cathedral-length train.

She wore a capelet headpiece in matching lace to hold in place a layered cathedral veil, appliqued with lace. Her bouquet was a cascade of white roses intermingled with ivy.

Attending the groom as best man was his cousin, Tim Hooper. Dale Jones, Bill Carr, Chuck Tanner and Matthew Hooper, the groom's brother, were groomsmen. Anthony Picchioni was the ringbearer.

Seating the guests were Robert Morgan, Terry Kaletta, Gary Miller and Greg Nunn, who served as candlelighters.

Mrs. Gibson selected a floor-length gown of sea mist green chiffon with silver accessories. The groom's mother, Mrs. Hooper, was attired in a beige dress complemented with gold accessories. Both wore white orchid corsages.

A reception followed the ceremony in the church fellowship hall.

A graduate of Edwardsville High School, the bride is employed at Kentucky Fried Chicken. Her husband works at Central Hardware in Granite City. They will reside in Collinsville.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. Honey Schloss and James Burdick and families of Evansville, Ind.; the Rev. and Mrs. John Varner, the Rev. and Mrs. Roger Newberry and family and Mrs. Liz Handyside, all of Keokuk, Ia.; Mrs. Jean Henderson, Fancy Prairie, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. Merle Albert of Taylorville, Ill.; Mrs. Bessie Rainwater and Bill Rainwater of Grenada, Miss.; and Mrs. Mandy Reed of Alton, Mo.

FEBRUARY BRIDE. Mrs. Bruce L. White, the former Miss Mary Joan Chitwood, who was married Saturday evening in the Religious Center at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Harold Chitwood of Belleville.

Mary Joan Chitwood and Bruce L. White are wed

The wedding of Miss Mary Joan Chitwood, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Harold Chitwood, 3835 Tanbark Drive, Belleville, and Bruce L. White, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond White, 2117 Stratford Lane, was solemnized Saturday evening in the Religious Center at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Organist Kathleen Raintree played classical selections by Bach preceding the service. The Rev. Lloyd Bassoo officiated at the double ring ceremony at 7:30 p.m.

Escorted down the aisle and given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a floor-length gown of ivory polyester tulle, featuring Chantilly lace empire bodice, a high stand-up collar and lace bishop sleeves.

A scalloped Chantilly lace panel, trimmed with pink ribbon and embroidered flowers, accented the front of the A-line skirt which swept into a full cathedral-length train, appliqued with the decorative lace.

She wore a lace capelet headpiece to secure her cathedral veil, bordered with scalloped Chantilly lace. Her bouquet was an arrangement of pink rosebuds, baby's breath and trailing ivy.

Methodist Women plan projects

The United Methodist Women met in the Niedringhaus United Methodist Church parlor last week.

As members arrived they were greeted by Geneva Miller, Emma Schoen and Jo Yurek who directed them to the sanctuary for a time of meditation and prayer. Shannon Glasgow provided piano music and the quiet time was concluded with a reading by Susan Sellheimer and a friendship candlelight service.

Jane Vanesler, vice president, presented the program, "A Theology of Giving," in which discussion groups led by the circle leaders were formed.

Under the direction of Carol Carpenter members placed gifts of canned goods at a worship table.

The business meeting was conducted by the president, Janet Wilson. Plans were announced to serve a coffee and luncheon to Methodist ministers of the metropolitan area on March 3. The women also will serve refreshments in the parlor following Lenten services on March 3.

The group also voted to hold the annual bazaar on Nov. 19. Dorothy Frohardt reported on activities and projects of Church Women United.

Betty Williams spoke on the purposes of the "Prayer and Self Denial" offering taken at February circle meetings.

Members of Charity Circle, led by Ethel Lerch, served coffee during a fellowship period following the meeting.

The next general meeting will take place April 13 in Wesley Hall.

2nd. Coach Walt Whitaker's third-place North Stealers will have three champions and one runnerup competing here this weekend: Kris Whelan (98) champion, Keith Whelan (105) champion, Matt McCullough (119) champion and Mark Wilde (167), 2nd place. Other matmen advancing from the Edwardsville district are: 88 pounds — Brian Mills, 2nd, Collinsville; 112 — Steve Wallace, champion, Bethalto, Mike Verhees, 2nd, Roxana. 119 — Ken Ryhle, 2nd, Wood

Sanabria, champion, Collinsville — Tim Van Doren, 2nd, Wood River; 167 — Fred Wopat, champion, Edwardsville.

Steve Traband, champion, Edwardsville, and Fred Gowing, 2nd, Bethalto; and heavyweight — Dave Miner, champion, Wood River.

South High held a nine-point lead over Edwardsville, 30-21, at the conclusion of Friday's first-round action, and then extended its total to 63½ points going into Saturday evening's final bouts.

Edwardsville was edged out of its second-place position by GCHS North after second-round action Saturday afternoon and Wood River moved into third place. North High had 45 points, Wood River 45½ and Edwardsville 44 at that point.

The Stealers grabbed the team lead temporarily in the final round competition with check championship wins by brothers Kris and Keith Whelan and McCullough, plus a third-place finish by Charles Taylor at 126 pounds.

The Warriors regained the lead again with championships at 132 and 138 and a second-place finish by Fetter at 145. South extended its margin with a championship at 155 pounds and second place at heavyweight.

After Steeler Steve Hartline bowed out of the competition at 155 pounds, Wood River, trailing North High 74-73½, took over second place in the tournament with a win by Van Doren in a runnerup bout in the same weight class.

Devils gain revenge on Lincoln—top Marquette

Friday was the supposedly unlucky 13th, but it did not deter Red Devil fans from jamming into the school's gymnasium to become part of the standing room only crowd which came to see if Venice could avenge a 67-66 loss two months ago at East St. Louis Lincoln.

In the rematch with the Lincoln Tigers, Venice romped home, 80-64.

Another close finish seemed likely when Lincoln held an 11-9 lead at the end of the first period.

But the Red Devils, seeking their 17th straight win since losing to the Tigers, came to life in the second quarter to surge ahead by nine points, 32-23, at halftime.

Venice had taken the second-period tipoff for a basket by James Turner to deadlock the contest, and then went up by two points when a forced turnover resulted enabled Turner to breaking down the court for a layup.

A Tiger basket tied the game at 33-33 before Jaffee Woolfork and Turner each scored.

The crowd went into a frenzy as the Red Devils pulled further ahead on field goals and free throws by Turner, Reggie Gardner, Woolfork and Larrick Arnold.

But for those who paid to witness the event and for those who peered into the gym through windows when they were refused admittance due to overcrowding of the building, the best was yet to come.

Lincoln's Curtis Turner, who had a game high of 23 points, put the first third-quarter basket through the net after the Tigers controlled the tipoff.

Red Devil Gardner matched it after penetrating Lincoln's full-court defense with fancy dribbling which enabled him to beat his closest defender to the inside lane.

With Venice leading 34-25, there were six straight turnovers by the visitors, converted into baskets by Woolfork, Gardner, Turner, Arnold and James Crowder, extending the Red Devil margin to 21 points, 46-25, with five minutes left in the quarter.

A timeout called by Tiger Coach Bennie Lewis did not improve the situation. Venice returned to score five field goals and three free throws for a 59-39 lead going into the final period.

Lincoln failed to overcome Venice's lead although outscoring the Red Devils 25-21 in the fourth quarter.

Coach Richard Essington's squad shot at about 50 per cent from the field, 33 of 65, as did Lincoln, 30 of 62. Venice put in 14 of 19 charity tosses, and Lincoln only four of 10.

Venice committed the fewest fouls, 13-17, and turnovers, 21-28. Lincoln rebounded well, 32 to the hosts' 26.

Woolfork set the scoring pace with 29 points, Gardner scored 22, Turner 15, Arnold six, Ron Salmund five and Crowder three.

With only two more games left remaining on the Red Devils' 1975-76 season schedule, Coach Essington's basketball team now has a 20-1 record after winning the 10th straight game Saturday night at home, 87-51 over Marquette of Alton.

Venice's defense held the Explorers to 10 points in each of the first and second quarters for 12-10 and then 38-20 leads.

The Red Devils went ahead by 32 points, 66-34, at the close of the third quarter on under-the-basket goals by Jaffee Woolfork and James Crowder. In that period, Reggie Gardner and James Turner fed them passes for frequent baskets.

Venice held the edge on free goals, 32-21, and at the free throw line, 11-9, but committed the most fouls, 16-11.

Eight different Devils put points on the scoreboard: Woolfork 20, Crowder 16, Gardner 14, Ron Salmund 11, Turner and Larrick Arnold eight each and Larrick Arnold and Venice Govan, five each.

Defending state champions Venice will prepare to defend its Class A regional tournament title following contests at home tomorrow with Belleville's St. Henry Prep and at GCHS South on Thursday.

Trojans' 20th win—92-64

Shooting percentages, rebounding and turnover advantages led Madison High School to its 12th straight cage win Saturday night, 92-64 over the Pioneers of Assumption at East St. Louis.

The Trojans led 22-16, 42-33 and 60-42 at the quarters, firing at 57 per cent accuracy from the field, 40 of 70, and missing 12 of 20 charity tosses.

Assumption shot 45 per cent from the floor, 26 of 57, and scored on 12 of 16 free throws.

Madison made the fewest fouls, 17-21, and turnovers, 17-23, and for its 11th straight game dominated rebounding, 44-24, with Trojan Danny Bankhead pulling down 10 missed shots.

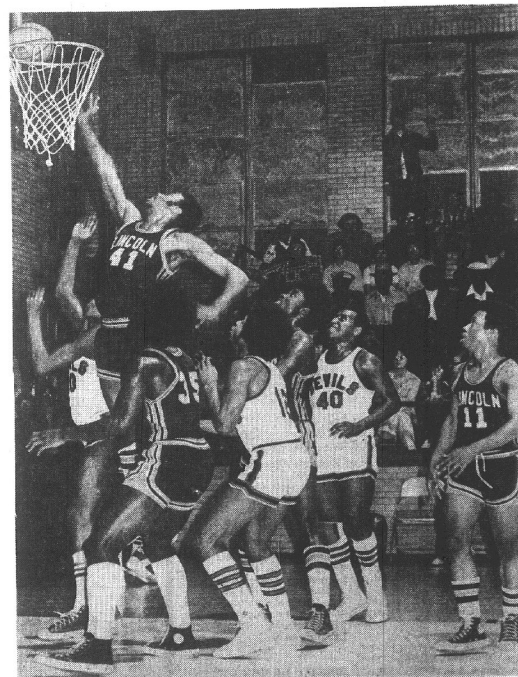

Eleven different players had a hand in the scoring as Madison soared to a 20-2 season record.

Bankhead scored 21 points, Ron Jones 20, Randall Jones 12, Curtis Bradley and Edwin Garrett 10 each, Anthony Canada eight, Joe Culash four, Ron Williams, Keith King and Kenny Boyd two each and Rodney Davis, one.

Madison mentor Larry Graham believes his talented squad may have its hands full tomorrow when the Trojans take on Northwest High School of Missouri in an 8 p.m. contest at MHS.

Northwest, which beat the Trojans 75-73 last season, nearly knocked off undefeated 09-01 St. Louis Central during the weekend but bowed 61-57 in overtime.

North edged, then gains a 67-61 win

GCHS North cagers lost a close one, 48-44, at Quincy Notre Dame Friday night, but returned home Saturday to give Steeler fans a Valentine present—a 67-61 over Teutopolis.

Teutopolis carried a 20-2 record into the battle against North, and had a 6-4 senior, Mark Kreke, who the night before scored 48 points. He needed only nine points to set a new all-time career scoring record.

Kreke was held to 18 points by North High's defense, and it also helped the Steeler effort when he was assigned to guard 11-11 Nick Spurlock. Kreke picked up three fouls before the first quarter ended, and went to the bench early in the third quarter when he incurred his fifth foul of the game, hampering Teutopolis' scoring punch.

Teutopolis led 19-17 going into the second period but a shooting spree by Spurlock and Tom Schocker enabled the Stealers to overtake the visitors and lead 39-32 and 50-46 after later quarters.

North hit 23 of 48 shots from the field and 21 of 28 free throws, including 13 by Spurlock, who went to the foul line 14 times. Teutopolis had 25 field goals and made 11 of 18 charity tosses.

The Stealers had the fewest fouls, 15-21, and turnovers, 10-11. The visitors outrebounded the hosts, 32-25.

Spurlock garnered 19 points, Schocker 15, Larry Schleicher 14, Tim Luehmann 11, Jerry Barnett four and Rodney Wortham, three.

At Quincy Friday, the Stealers jumped to a 4-0 lead in the first period but it was a 6-6 deadlock going into the second quarter.

Quincy then led 17-14 and 38-25, and North High rallied with 19 points to the hosts' 10 in the final period.

Quincy won from the foul line 10-4. Each side had 19 field goals.

North had the fewest turnovers, 12-18, and rebounds, 19-27. The Stealers made 22 fouls and the hosts, 14.

Schocker had 14 points, Schleicher eight, Barnett and Luehmann six each and Spurlock and Wortham, five each.

LACLEDE STEEL COMPANY

RECOGNIZES SAFE WORKERS

The Laclede Steel Company employees whose names and pictures appear on this page are living proof that the most effective safety device is the trained, safety minded employee.

Each year for more than a decade Laclede has recognized those steelworkers who have worked for five years of more without a lost time accident. A lapel pin is awarded for each five-year period of accident-free employment.

Pictured and listed below are the employees who received this safety award at the end of 1975.

The combined total of no-accident experience for these employees is 1250 years.

In addition, 242 other Laclede employees at Madison not pictured or listed, completed a combined total of 4457 years of service without a lost time accident. Their individual safety records range from one year to forty years.

Laclede is proud of these safe working employees and we think friends and neighbors will be, too.

Seek river bike trail

A public information meeting concerning the status of the proposed Great River Road bike trail from Alton to Grafton will be held at 7:30 p.m. Thursday at the Court Room, Federal Building, 501 Belle St., Alton.

A 13-year old Alton boy was killed and another seriously injured after being struck by a car Dec. 28 while they were bicycling on the Great River Road near Alton.

For the past two years, Plaza Bicycle Trails, Junior Service League, citizens and Pride, Inc., have been seeking construction of a safe recreational bike trail along the scenic portion of the River Road that borders Alton Lake.

"We have run into many roadblocks, and now public support is needed to assure early construction of this desperately needed trail," Mrs. Annie Hoagland, Clifton Terrace, Godfrey, (telephone 466-4364), chairman of the project, comments.

BULLETIN

Our truck-load Potato Sale was quite a hit last week. We emptied the truck on Tuesday night and had enough to last all thru Wednesday.

We didn't fare so well with the 10c Biscuits. We advertised these "while 3000 last" because that is all we could buy at a special price. At our managers meeting we talked about limiting but decided that 3,000 was enough. We really don't like to limit anything. Unfortunately we were wrong and the biscuits ran out on Tuesday afternoon.

Now in todays ad we probably have the same deal. There are 80 dozen Pillsbury Crescent Rolls that normally sell at 50c that we are offering at 3 for $1.00 WHILE THEY LAST. We will limit three per customer; but, we know that we are going to run out anyway. Still, we feel that when we get a "good buy" our customers deserve to hear about it regardless of the quantity involved.

by the board Thursday for his "significant accomplishment." Allen, secretary of information for the Illinois Agricultural Association, asked not to be reappointed to the SIU Board. He served three years as the alternate representative of the board to the Illinois Board of Higher Education and two years as a member of the Executive Committee.

On two separate occasions he was a member of a Board Presidential Selection Committee. He served as a member of the Committee on Board and Executive Officer Relationships, and in numerous short-term and specific assignments regarding programs, budgets and relationships with state agencies.

Gov. Daniel Walker has nominated Wayne Heberer of Belleville Rural Route One as Allen's successor on the SIU board. The appointment is subject to ratification by the State Senate.

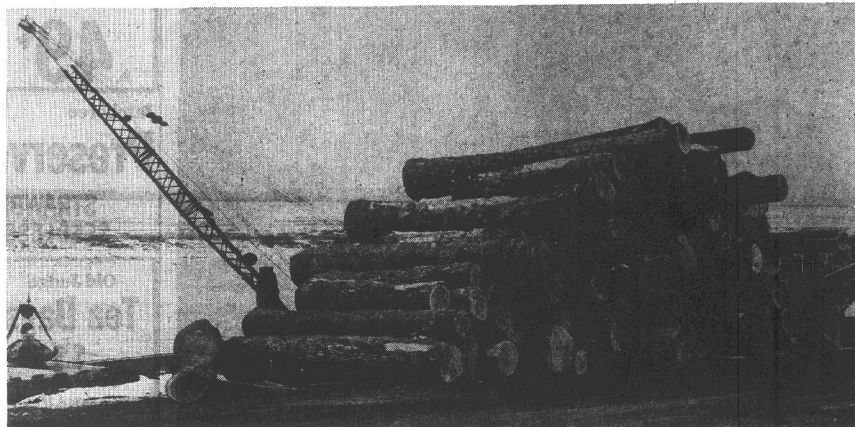

COPPER FROM BELGIUM is unloaded from a barge and onto a truck at the Tri-City Regional Port. A wide variety of materials coming in from Europe or bound for overseas shipment was handled at the local port facilities during the current month.

Port Manager Carl Ranft cites the many new commodities being handled here as examples of the growth which is rapidly turning the port here into a regional port capable of serving the needs of a wide variety of customers.

Merchants schedule meeting at Peoria

The Illinois Retail Merchants Association annual meeting is scheduled at the Hilton Hotel, Peoria, March 31, and April 1, Hugh E. Muncy, IRMA president announced today.

"To better serve customers, retailers must constantly be alert to changes in the consumer, political, and economic scenes, and aware of innovations in store operating methods," Muncy said, indicating the annual meeting program is directed to future trends in these areas.

Theme for the day and a half meeting is "A New Look at Old Problems." Agenda includes sessions on customer markets, service-selling, credit, political and legislative trends, consumer views of retailing, and applications for new technology.

Among featured speakers will be E. Lawrence Goodman, vice-president Retail Advertising, Bureau of Advertising; E. E. Wardlow, president, S. S. Krepps Company, and C. Virgil Martin, chairman, Finance Committee, Carson Pirie Scott & Co.

The 1976 IRMA annual meeting is open to all Illinois retailers, Muncy advised. Program details and reservation information may be secured through the offices in Chicago and Springfield.

Today, the outdoor air is helping to heat many homes in Illinois

Heat created by the sun exists in outdoor air, even at cold winter temperatures. No wonder the machine that can extract this heat from outdoors and put it to work warming the indoors is called the most efficient heating system yet devised.

It's the electric Heat Pump. In a single compact unit it does the work of both a furnace and air conditioner.

It's a wise use of energy for year 'round comfort.

In winter, the Heat Pump extracts heat from outdoor air and circulates warm air through the indoors. In warm weather, it automatically reverses its cycle, extracting heat from indoors.

Choose the room temperature at which you're comfortable and the Heat Pump will provide it, no matter what the weather outside.

More and more Heat Pumps are being installed in new and existing homes, commercial and industrial buildings throughout Illinois. Proper insulation is, of course, an essential first step, as it is with any type of heating or air conditioning.

For complete information on the Heat Pump, ask the Energy Use Advisor at Illinois Power Company.

SIUE student arrested on nine charges

A student at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville has been charged with eight traffic violations and theft in connection with a high-speed chase on and off the campus last week.

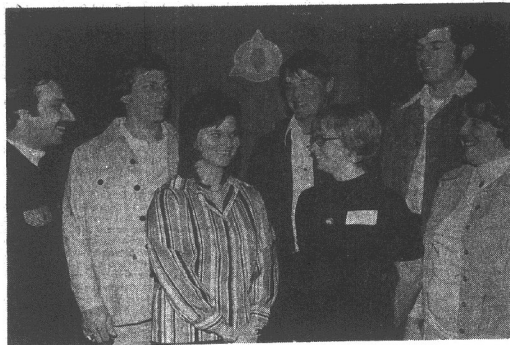

Gary Polwort, 20, of Collinsville, has been charged by University Police with five stop signs and three speeding violations. Charges were filed Tuesday afternoon, and Polwort was released on his own recognizance with a notice to appear in Third Circuit Court, March 17.

Polwort, who is a student janitor at the University Center, is accused of taking gallon cans of food from the Center and loading the food in his car about 7 p.m. Sunday. An officer in an unmarked car said he saw Polwort load items in his car while the vehicle was parked on a sidewalk near Parking Lot B at the "Center." The officer followed the student's car and gave chase when the car refused to stop.

The officer said the fleeing car ran five stop signs on campus and accelerated to speeds of 80 to 90 miles per hour while being driven north on Highway 143. The car later was found wrecked and abandoned at the Highway 143 interchange north of the campus.

A search of the area Sunday night and Monday morning failed to produce the driver. Cans of food identified as belonging to University Food Service were recovered from the car.

Police said Polwort voluntarily appeared with his attorney at the University Security Office, Tuesday.

Ribbon-cutting ceremony at Howlett headquarters

Nearly 60 persons turned out for an official ribbon cutting opening the Quad-City area campaign headquarters of Secretary of State Michael J. Howlett, Democratic candidate for governor, Thursday in the Nameoki Village Shopping Center.

Nelson Hagnauer, chairman of the Madison County Board and head of the county's Democratic Central Committee, served as master-of-ceremonies for the event, introducing the many politicians and political hopefuls in the gathering.

Chief speaker was State Sen. Sam Vadalabene of Edwardsville, who said Howlett was unable to attend and asked him to greet the people of the Quad-City area.

"Four years ago this was Walker Country—now it is Howlett Country," Vadalabene said, referring to the incumbent governor Daniel Walker, who is opposing Howlett for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

The senator said Walker is taking his campaign to newspapers and the electronic news media, while Howlett is taking his campaign to the people of Illinois, meeting with groups of precinct committeemen and addressing numerous public meetings.

Among the candidates attending the event were: Steve Maragides, candidate for state's attorney; Joe Lucco and Sam Wolf, candidates for reelection to state representative posts; Circuit Judge Horace Calvo, who is seeking reelection; Nicholas G. Byron, who is seeking reelection as state's attorney; and Charles Hester and John Riskowski, candidates for delegate positions for the Democratic National Convention.

Other politicians on hand included Granite City Township Assessor Von Dee Cruse; Venice Township Supervisor Christ Paschoff; Jack Scoville, president of the East Side Levee and Sanitary District; Russell Robinson, a levee trustee; and many others.

Hagnauer also introduced Walter "Buck" Simmons, former chairman of the Madison County Democratic Central Committee.

CARLOS ARZUAGAS, 19, Granite City, has completed Army basic training at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., and presently is in military police training at Fort McClellan, Ala. After training, he will serve at the Sierra Army Depot, California. He is a 1975 graduate of Granite City High School South and is married to the former Rosemary Lloyd of Granite City.

INJURED IN ACCIDENT Herman Powers, 27, of 42 Garesche Homes, Madison, was injured in an auto accident last week and was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital at 3 p.m. with a head injury.

Plan fast food at university

Plans and specifications for a "fast food" operation at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville were approved Thursday by the SIUE Board of Trustees. University officials are to proceed with bidding the project.

The plans provide for renovation of the "Coughlin Coffee House" in the northeast corner of the lower level dining area of the University Center. The board authorized in October expenditure of up to $120,000 for the project, with funds to be provided by the Student Welfare and Recreational Facility Building Trust Fund.

Plans and specifications were prepared by the food engineering firm of E. G. Marohn and Associates of St. Louis. The new facility will occupy 522 square feet of floor space.

A fast food operation was proposed by the management of the University Center, in conjunction with the Student Senate and University Center Board. According to university officials, an increasing number of such operations nationally are moving to fast food operations similar to popular hamburger restaurants.

SIUE officials said they have been searching for methods to reduce escalating food service operating costs while meeting demands for low-cost feeding.

Prison leaves called success

Illinois Department of Corrections Director Allyn R. Sleafs said during the weekend that from program inception through Dec. 31, a total of 10,643 furloughs was granted to adult correctional center residents.

"During that time," Sleafs said, "the program was 99.5 per cent successful." He said the success of the program has been acknowledged by several organizations, including the American Correctional Association and the American Association of Wardens and Superintendents.

Anthony Travisono, executive director of the ACA, has said that Illinois' "near perfect furlough record, probably cannot be topped by any other state," Sleafs said.

Furloughs fall under six categories: home and family (5,732), medical (2,920), educational (837), family illness (319), employment (299) and funeral (716). They are granted to residents in accord with the Illinois Revised Statutes, Chapter 38, Section 1003-11-1, and department regulations. There have been 14 arrest or suspension incidents, 40 failures to return on the designated day.

legislature, including the energy committee, the education committee and the committee on counties and townships. "I am in favor of local government and I support elected officials from precinct committeemen to the top echelon."

Lucco assailed property taxation as "an antiquated form of taxation."

Lucco also said the voters had been told all the money from the state lottery would go for schools and it has not. "I will help introduce a bill this spring directing that all money from the lottery go to help finance schools," he pledged.

James McPike of Alton was the next state representative hopeful to speak. He discussed his education and Naval background and noted his family has been in this area for more than 100 years.

He holds a master's degree from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville and has served as a Navy pilot and a sales engineer for the 3M Corp.

McPike said he is from a union family and "a working class family. I have labor support," he said.

He said he believes in ethics in government and has made public his assets, income and all his contributors. "I ask my opponents to do the same," McPike challenged.

He pledged, if elected, he will be a full-time legislator. "For the $20,000 per year we pay representatives, we should ask no less," he commented.

McPike said competition within the Democratic Party is healthy and it should be kept open, in order to assure the best people have an opportunity to run for each position.

"Be aware of the people you vote for. They will become the leaders of tomorrow," McPike concluded.

Next among the state representative candidates to speak was Louis Whitsell, supervisor of Nameoki Township.

Whitsell said he feels he is the best candidate because he has "local government experience." Speaking as a township supervisor, he commented, "State government is nearly destroying us."

He said the state has broken its promises in two major areas. "When they started the state income tax, they said it would help relieve our local tax. The lottery was for full funding of schools. None of this ever happened."

"My interest is local government," Whitsell said, adding, "It should be the number one qualification that state legislators have local government experience."

He noted he is in his fifth year as supervisor of Nameoki Township, but would resign, if elected as state representative. He also commented on his experience on the Madison County Board, saying, "I am well qualified to be a state representative and to pass laws to serve you, not the special interest laws passed last year."

About crime, Whitsell said criminals should be made to reimburse the victims of their crimes. The legislature has offered assistance to the victims of some crimes, but with taxpayers' money.

"If the criminals have no money, they should be made to work for it. It takes all his life to reimburse the victims of his crime."

Whitsell concluded his talk with the promise to be the full-time representative, if elected.

Mrs. Anita Eftimoff of Granite City spoke next on her candidacy for state representative. "I am a mother, a wife, a school teacher, a non-politician," she said, asserting that there has been a failure of government to assess the effects of its actions on family life.

She said politicians have run the state long enough. "It is time for us to direct our government," Mrs. Eftimoff told the crowd.

She said experiences in the home have given her good fiscal judgment and said as a teacher she has learned that schools can be the "instruments of social reform."

She supported many things including strict law enforcement, open primaries, annual state budgets, an end to politicians being paid for two full-time jobs, tax reform, efforts to attract industry, action to curb inflation and rising fuel costs, better prison facilities, relief for crime victims.

The only other county office in which there is competition is the circuit clerk's office. Although candidate James E. Grant, who did not appear at the meeting, the incumbent, Willard V. "Butch" Portell, did appear.

Portell said his office terminated more than 50,000 legal cases last year. "We are an $8 million to $10 million operation and we are just as strong as the office force we have," he stated.

He asked all of his employees present to rise, and gesturing toward them, said, "My name is just the instrument. You relieve the good people for four more years to serve you if you reelect me," Portell said.

He said his office handles more than 100 cases on the county outside of Cook County. It takes experience, but most of all it takes compassion for the people," Portell concluded.

Candidates for four Madison County Board seats also addressed the gathering. In District 22, Herbert "Junior" Milton, the incumbent, is opposed by Jim Perdue Sr., both of Granite City.

Jim Kahan spoke for Milton, who was unable to attend. He said in the last four years, Milton has been "one of the hardest working members of the county board. He has been responsive to the needs of the people in his district and in Madison County," Kahan said.

Perdue discussed his background as a lifelong resident and a Marine veteran who has been in business with his brother and father since 1946.

He said he "will devote all the time I possibly can to help the people and I will be available at all times."

He pledged to "try to put the tax burden to the best possible use."

In District 23, the incumbent, Jay Maurer of Venice, also absent, but his challenger, Jake Hagyard of Granite City, spoke to the club.

Varian said only he is of Armenian heritage and was raised in Lincoln Park. He is a graduate of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville and presently is a teacher. He pledged to do his best, if elected.

The District 24 incumbent, Arthur "Cooper" Moore, also absent, and his opponent, Gary Novich, spoke. Both are from Madison.

Novich said he is a real estate agent, a McKendree College graduate, and is well known in the Quad-City area.

He said the main election issue is "excessive waste on county government," and pledged to work toward eliminating the waste.

He supported a flat salary plan for board members, rather than per diem and mileage they presently are paid.

"I would be responsible to the people and would echo the voice of the people in my district. I am a youthful, aggressive candidate," Novich said.

He noted, "It is time for a change on March 16," and urged the Democrats present to attempt to get more people to register and vote in the primary.

Two of the three District 25 candidates were present when the meeting started, but the incumbent, Homer Bothman of Collinsville, had to leave before he had an opportunity to speak.

James Boyer of State Park Place did not attend. The only candidate in District 25 to speak was Chris W. Von Nida of Granite City who asked for the support of the Democrats in his campaign on election day.

Madison County Coroner Dallas M. Burke, who is opposed for re-election, spoke briefly, saying she was privileged last time to run with the incumbents and said, "I am privileged to run with them again."

Neither of the two candidates for circuit judge, the incumbent, apologetic for Kinder's absence, noting he had been ill of flu. He said Kinder "is an excellent person who is concerned about what he is doing."

"His judgment is sound and sincere," Grisham noted.

He said Kinder believes in strict enforcement of criminal laws, particularly in drug cases and crimes committed with weapons.

He also believes in efficient administration of justice with a court system more responsive to the needs of the people, courts free of political influence, judges elected by the people, and a Democratic party helping the will of all Democrats, not just a few politicians who hand-picked candidates, Grisham said.

Ronald Lucas, who is opposed for re-election as clerk of deeds, also spoke, and surprised many by saying, "The only people who can straighten out a situation like we've had the last few years is you, the voter."

"I hope you study and know your candidates and support the people you think are going to do the best job for you, the citizens."

of the people in my district. I am a youthful, aggressive candidate," Novich said.

He noted, "It is time for a change on March 16," and urged the Democrats present to attempt to get more people to register and vote in the primary.

Two of the three District 25 candidates were present when the meeting started, but the incumbent, Homer Bothman of Collinsville, had to leave before he had an opportunity to speak.

James Boyer of State Park Place did not attend. The only candidate in District 25 to speak was Chris W. Von Nida of Granite City who asked for the support of the Democrats in his campaign on election day.

Madison County Coroner Dallas M. Burke, who is opposed for re-election, spoke briefly, saying she was privileged last time to run with the incumbents and said, "I am privileged to run with them again."

More administrative changes next month

Further changes in the administrative structure of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville are not expected to be announced until the March meeting of the SIUE Board of Trustees, according to an informational report given to trustees Thursday. The March meeting is scheduled at SIUE Thursday, March 11.

Since August 1975, efforts have been in progress at SIUE to assess the central organizational structure and to realign some of the functions in the offices of business affairs, student affairs and academic affairs.

SIUE President John S. Rendleman initiated the realignment efforts "anticipating a need to improve the capacity of the administrative structure to continue and to expand the delivery of increasingly diversified support services in the future despite base budget erosions."

He dissolved the positions of vice-president for business affairs, assistant vice-presidents for business affairs and vice-president for administration whose duties would absorb those of a number of present officers on a wide range of administrative levels. A committee also was named to review a number of remaining administrative units, principally under the Office of Student Affairs.

Vice-President and Provost Andrew J. Kochman was asked to make an analysis of operations in the academic area.

Later, in response to recommendations by the review committee, a search was launched for an executive dean of student affairs, and an interim operational organization was developed for the business affairs area.

Under the change, two units previously reporting to the Office of Student Affairs now report to the director of business services and ultimately will report to the vice-president for administration. The units are University Housing and University Health Service.

The search group for the vice-president for administration has forwarded a list of recommended candidates to the president, who will conduct interviews prior to forwarding a recommendation to the Board of Trustees.

The review committee also recommended that the controller and budget director remain an office directly beneath the president, pending further review by the president and the vice-president for administration after he is appointed.

Possibility of changes in the reporting lines of Foundation administration and Alumni relations administration also were postponed until placement of the units has been reviewed by the president and the vice-president for administration.

While the search for the executive dean of student affairs continues, the dean of students is acting as chief administrative officer for the student affairs division.

Following appointment of the executive dean, all intercollegiate and intramural athletic and recreational programs will be consolidated under his office. All student activities and programming functions also are to be centralized under the executive dean, while permitting the University Center Board to retain its programming role in the University Center.

The executive dean will undertake a review of relationships between developmental services and recommend revisions to improve coordination and delivery of the services in the face of budget erosion. The services include counseling and testing, student work and financial assistance, foreign student advisement, and placement.

Dr. Kochman has proposed reorganization of several areas in his office. "The proposed reorganization is directed at reducing administrative overhead costs, increased budget flexibility, administrative consolidation of programs with similar characteristics and functions, and establishment of an academic program administrative structure to aid in understanding and solving urban and social problems."

One of the proposals being reviewed is establishment of an Institute of Urban and Regional Studies, encompassing several existing units and programs including: Delinquency Study and Youth Development Center, bachelor of arts degree in human services, Center for Urban and Environmental Research and Services, master of science degree in urban studies, and the general or interdisciplinary component of the master of science degree in environmental studies.

The report proposes that the instructional design portion of Instructional Development Services be reassigned to the Office of the Vice-President and Provost. "This latter recommendation is consonant with the need for focusing on faculty and staff development within Academic Affairs," Kochman said.

He said additional proposals will be made in the weeks ahead concerning realignment needs in Academic Affairs.

Madison plans Ethnic Bicentennial Festival

The Madison Ethnic Bicentennial Festival has been scheduled for Friday, Saturday and Sunday, July 2, 3 and 4, on the St. Mary School grounds, 10th and Lee Streets, Madison. It was announced today by William Gusheloff, general chairman.

Organizations in Madison are being asked to participate and to sponsor booths at the festival. "Those organizations wishing to participate should write a letter giving the name of the organization, the name, address and phone number of the head of the organization and what type of booth they want," Gusheloff said.

"These letters should be sent to Frank Papa at the Madison city hall and we will grant the request on a first-come, first-served basis. It is important to stress that a letter must be written as we cannot accept phone calls from any group or person."

Game booths, ethnic food booths and musical groups are being encouraged, according to Papa.

"We will make a small charge for the booth and expenses, but the major portion of the money earned by each booth will be kept by the organization having the booth. The committee hopes to make a little money so that we can erect some sort of memorial of our nation's 200th birthday," Gusheloff said.

Hope for prompt start on new sanitary sewer system

With the Alton locks and dam replacement delayed by litigation and the proposed Columbia-Waterloo regional airport also still uncertain, principal construction interest in the immediate future is centering on the four-township sanitary sewer program and its impact on the Quad-City area.

Final state approval of the engineering plans was received here last week from the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency. Next tasks awaiting completion are provision of the nearly $4 million local share of the $14 million project, final easement signings and specific agreements to utilize Collinsville and Granite City lines and treatment.

An early start and finish can be of immense positive value to this community, and there is widespread hope that all who are affected will act promptly to help make the long-awaited and badly-needed sewers a reality.

Decrease in natural gas price here is welcome news

When a dog bites a man, it's only of minor interest, according to the old saying; but when a man bites a dog, that's big news.

Front-page news Thursday was the Illinois Commerce Commission approval of a "man bites dog" proposal by Illinois Power Company. Natural gas rates in the Quad-Cities are going to fall — that's decrease, rather than increase — by an average of more than $24 annually effective March 1. The objective is more uniform charges among the 354,000 IPG gas customers.

Now, if we could just get a more generous supply of the fuel, enabling all new prospective customers to be served immediately rather than going onto a waiting list, it would be even bigger news.

But House gas policy viewed by some as shortsighted

Press-Record Washington Bureau — The 200 members of the House of Representatives who voted to extend price controls on the biggest natural gas producers theoretically are in a good political position, particularly during an election year.

Presumably they can tell their constituents that they have constrained big and powerful energy interests (read it: Goliaths), helped the small producers (Davids), saved homeowners a few dollars a month by keeping gas prices down and fought inflation to boot.

We hope that people of the United States won't stand still for that kind of deception.

The very best that can be said for the natural gas legislation approved by the House is that it is bad, an abdication of responsibility on the part of members who voted for it.

Distilled to the essence, the purpose of all energy legislation should be to move the United States toward greater independence from foreign resources.

The House-approved measure does not move in this direction for a number of reasons. The first is that it does not encourage conservation of a premium, endangered resource.

When sold in states where it is produced, unleaded natural gas is snapped up at $1 to $2 per 1,000 cubic feet. When sold in interstate commerce, natural gas controlled by the federal government cannot begin to meet the demand at 35 cents per 1,000 cubic feet.

By forcing big producers to account for 70 per cent of the fuel sold in the United States, to sell for the artificially lowest price, the bill would discourage conservation and continue to encourage less-than-wise uses of this valuable, vanishing energy.

Arguments that exploration will be encouraged by removal of federal price controls on the small producers do not stand up. The days of small operators tapping readily accessible supplies are passing.

Most of the promising undeveloped domestic gas fields either are in distant and inaccessible regions or on the continental shelves off our coasts. Both are extremely expensive to explore and develop, probably beyond the credit capabilities of a small producer or even a consortium of small producers.

Could a small producer afford to pay even the $7 billion cost of an Alaskan pipeline, to say nothing of the initial investment needed to put something into that pipeline?

Another troublesome aspect of the House approach to natural gas prices is that it continues to foster an impression among Americans that there is a cheap way out of our energy problem, and that if we just pass a federal law to retain the status quo today, everything will somehow turn out all right tomorrow.

It won't unless we make it turn out by the use of forceful constructive policy. That policy should be to let the free market set the relative cost of fuel so that private industry can gear up to meet our future needs.

Good politics is not illusion making, but common sense, such as the Senate displayed when it voted to deregulate all natural gas last year. The interests of America will be served if Senate conferees prevail.

Board approves Elliott, Rowe and Mrs. Blackshire

Officers of the Southern Illinois University Board of Trustees were re-elected Thursday at the annual organization election of the board, held in connection with the February session of the board. The meeting was at the Carbondale campus.

The officers are: Ivan A. Elliott Jr. of Carmi, chairman; Harris Rowe of Jacksonville, vice chairman; and Mrs. Margaret Blackshire of Madison, secretary.

Also re-elected were the members of the board's Executive Committee. They are: Elliott, Mrs. Blackshire and William R. Norwood of Elk Grove Village.

None of the candidates was opposed, and the decisions by secret ballot were unanimous.

Some unfair to city humane officers

To the Editor:
I read about a dog being killed by a humane officer. That was bad, but the dog should have had a muzzle on.

We have a muzzle law in this town. Why make a big thing out of it?

The humane officer has a job to do, just like me and you, and he has an ordinance to go by. They picked up my dog. I dropped by the animal shelter to get him, and a nice man read the ordinance to me. I paid for my dog and thanked the officer.

Some dogs chase people walking and also bicycle riders and knock them all the time.

The man didn't mean to kill Jason. It was one of those things that just happened. They had a call, and they answered it.

I was at the City Council meeting Feb. 2 and one alderman said to not pick up good neighborhood dogs. Do you think that's fair—pick up another dog and let my good neighbors' and friends' dogs go?

About the overtime, I talked to one humane officer and he said he is called out at all times at night.

I know the aldermen work, too. If they were called out for their job, would they go out for free?

GRANITE CITY WOMAN

Long line greets those paying bills

To the Editor:
I have been a Granite City resident for 30 years. I have had a telephone that long.

When I went to pay my bill last month, and there was a line from the door to the desk, I said, "You need help."

An employee got smart and said that if I didn't like it, I could put the payment in the

Air quality better in nation but environment still on downslide

(National Wildlife Federation)

The "quality of life" in the United States, measured by seven environmental yardsticks, continued on a downward trend in 1975 for the sixth consecutive year.

The environment suffered setbacks in five of the seven "vital resource" areas" surveyed in this conservation organization's seventh annual Environmental Quality (EQ) Index report, published in the current (February-March) issue of National Wildlife magazine.

It moved ahead in only one area — air quality — and held its own in another, timber resources.

But it fell behind in water quality, soil, wildlife, minerals and living space, the survey found.

These trends produced a National EQ Index of 350 on a scale where 700 would represent the best postwar environment. This is a drop of six points from the 1974 mark and is 45 points below the National EQ Index for 1969, the first year of the NWF survey.

All seven indicators have declined since the first survey in 1969. Apathy is our biggest problem.

The magazine says, "It would be nice to report in this year of the American Bicentennial that the quality of life in the United States is quickly on the mend. Unfortunately, such is not the case."

As one of the few encouraging signs in a "generally somber picture," the magazine noted that "polls still show unqualified public support for environmental goals."

Horrendously at a rate of roughly three points per year over the decade.

Now devoted this swooning "sad state of affairs" in with the well-known fact that the nation has more than doubled the amount of money it's been spending on education since the 1960s.

Alternate conclusions: Either (a) the more money we spend on education, the worse the product they turn out, or (b) there is no demonstrable relation between the money we spend on education and how well educated people get.

A further conclusion reached almost instinctively by the general public is that the schools are obviously doing something very wrong, or at least now doing much that is very right. But here the education Establishment starts shaking its head furiously and rationalizing ridiculously.

Said Establishment's first indignation reaction: The test scores was typical. The test said had been subtly tampered with — altered over the past few years to make them more difficult.

This was promptly interdicted by Sam McCandless, director of the College Entrance Examination Board's testing program: "The tests haven't gotten harder; in fact, they've gotten easier."

Now comes B. J. Chandler, dean of Northwestern University's school of education, to lay the criticisms of the schools to rest with what has to be the all-time definitive example of whistling past the graveyard: "There isn't much in the way of empirical evidence to support... the contention that the schools are not doing as good a job."

Oh, yes, warning to his work, he tells us what's really wrong: "Overall I'd say that there has been a de-emphasis on college preparation in the schools."

Oh, yes, since the tests show that educators are doing a scurvy job, let's discredit the tests.

There can't possibly be anything wrong with the "life adjustment" philosophy of peer group acceptance, modular scheduling, non-graded pupil evaluation and, of course, "relevance."

So let's just disregard anything that calls educators' whole professional way of thinking into question. It simply has to be wrong, because it's undeniable that they're all working for the betterment of their pupils. But we won't let them get away with ignoring the facts.

Imagine how Dean Chandler and his pals would have been flapping their wings and claiming that they're all working for the betterment of their pupils. But we won't let them get away with ignoring the facts.

problem" for the future.

SOIL. Dredging from American farmers plowed up five million acres of "soil bank" land and millions acres of grasslands and woodlands in order to produce record corn and wheat crops, plus the second biggest soybean crop in history.

At the same time, 2.2 million acres of valuable farmland were lost to other uses.

Much of newly-plowed land is vulnerable to erosion, which last year carried off 3.5 billion tons of soil.

Down again, U.S. crude oil production fell to its lowest level since 1966.

Estimates of oil reserves have been revised sharply downward by the U.S. Geological Survey, and oil shale remains an economically and environmentally unattractive energy source.

The nation suffers from a lack of a national energy policy stressing conservation, recycling and environmental protection.

For development of new sources such as solar and geothermal energy, "research is still lagging on alternative energy sources."

WATER QUALITY. Down again. Although the release of impounded sewage funds has helped ease the problem, 9,000 communities serving 60 per cent of the nation's population will not meet the government's 1977 first stage deadline for a sewage cleanup.

Improved monitoring of water pollution has revealed that the problem is much worse than originally believed.

Control of nonpoint sources —

farm run-off of fertilizer and pesticides, urban run-off, and acids from mining and oil field operations — remain a long-term problem.

The true dimensions of the nation's critical water problems — both quality and quantity — are just now taking shape.

LIVING SPACE. Down again. Seventeen states enacted land use laws, but generally the country continues to grow and develop without coordinated land use planning.

The year 1975 saw Congress torpedo a land use bill and a Presidential veto of strip mining legislation.

In the next ten years, an area larger than the state of New Jersey will be urbanized.

A short-lived decline in the U.S. birth rate has apparently come to an end and by July 4 there will be 215 million Americans.

"Americans must decide soon the life style they want for their children," the report observes.

The EQ Index, based in part on statistics and in part on the "combined judgment" of NWF experts, has been commended by government officials as a unique, authoritative, journalistic evaluation of the "quality of life."

It is prepared each year as a special report to associate members of the NWF.

Single copies of the 12-page report, reprinted from the current issue of National Wildlife, can be obtained free by writing to Educational Services, National Wildlife Federation, 1412 16th St. N.W., Washington, D.C. 20036.

Additional copies, up to 100, are priced at 25 cents each and in quantities over 100, at 15 cents each.

Alarming pattern on aptitude test scores

Globe-Democrat — One of the educational profession's less endearing qualities is its total inability to admit it's been wrong.

Example: All the evidence now shows that American public school students are learning less today than they did 12 years ago.

The 1975 Scholastic Aptitude Test scores released by the College Entrance Examination Board average 434 for the verbal portion of the test and 472 for the mathematics section.

In 1963, the scores were 478 and 502, respectively.

That's more. As recently as 1964, the verbal average was 10 points higher and the math average eight points higher.

The scores, in fact, have been dropping regularly and horrendously at a rate of roughly three points per year over the decade.

Now devoted this swooning "sad state of affairs" in with the well-known fact that the nation has more than doubled the amount of money it's been spending on education since the 1960s.

Alternate conclusions: Either (a) the more money we spend on education, the worse the product they turn out, or (b) there is no demonstrable relation between the money we spend on education and how well educated people get.

A further conclusion reached almost instinctively by the general public is that the schools are obviously doing something very wrong, or at least now doing much that is very right. But here the education Establishment starts shaking its head furiously and rationalizing ridiculously.

Said Establishment's first indignation reaction: The test scores was typical. The test said had been subtly tampered with — altered over the past few years to make them more difficult.

This was promptly interdicted by Sam McCandless, director of the College Entrance Examination Board's testing program: "The tests haven't gotten harder; in fact, they've gotten easier."

Now comes B. J. Chandler, dean of Northwestern University's school of education, to lay the criticisms of the schools to rest with what has to be the all-time definitive example of whistling past the graveyard: "There isn't much in the way of empirical evidence to support... the contention that the schools are not doing as good a job."

Oh, yes, warning to his work, he tells us what's really wrong: "Overall I'd say that there has been a de-emphasis on college preparation in the schools."

Oh, yes, since the tests show that educators are doing a scurvy job, let's discredit the tests.

There can't possibly be anything wrong with the "life adjustment" philosophy of peer group acceptance, modular scheduling, non-graded pupil evaluation and, of course, "relevance."

So let's just disregard anything that calls educators' whole professional way of thinking into question. It simply has to be wrong, because it's undeniable that they're all working for the betterment of their pupils. But we won't let them get away with ignoring the facts.

Imagine how Dean Chandler and his pals would have been flapping their wings and claiming that they're all working for the betterment of their pupils. But we won't let them get away with ignoring the facts.

advise to examine its foundations in some detail.

In other parts of the paper, Missouri attempts to erect an artificial and unwarranted limitation on the secretary's powers under the Act.

Two grounds are advanced as the basis that the secretary cannot grant funds for purchasing land at Columbia-Waterloo.

First, Missouri contends that the Act does not permit expenditure for use for land acquisition until the site of the airport has been determined.

Second, that land-banking is not a use for land acquisition until the site of the airport has been determined.

Not only are these grounds erroneous, but numerous provisions in the Act plainly demonstrate that the secretary has ample authority to land-bank if he so desires.

Nothing in the Act establishes a firm and capacious commitment to a particular site as a precondition to purchase of land.

Section 11 (2), on which Missouri relies, expressly provides that "airport development" includes "any acquisition of land... including land for future development."

Needless to say, the secretary could not approve a land acquisition totally unrelated to future airport development.

Not given the strong likelihood of eventual development of an airport at Columbia-Waterloo when land is acquired, and given that no such development would be possible if the site is not purchased but is developed in an incompatible manner, it is plain that acquisition "is necessary to permit... such work of 'future airport development,' as envisioned by S 11 (2)."

Simply stated, land-banking is "necessary" for "future airport development," as envisioned by S 11 (2).

Because of the disastrous implications of Missouri's argument on this point, it is advisable to examine its foundations in some detail.

Stevenson voices faith in Howlett

By LESTER BELL
Press-Record
Washington Bureau

Sen. Adlai E. Stevenson, D-Ill., pending evidence to the contrary, will continue to esteem the impartiality of Illinois Secretary of State Michael J. Howlett, whose $15,000 annual retainer as Sun Steel Company consultant is under investigation.

Stevenson discussed the Howlett affair last week before leaving for the Middle East as chairman of the Senate Oil and Gas Production Subcommittee. He is to return Feb. 22 from his first Middle East trip after learning "about world oil supply and prices."

Although he did not mention that Illinois is challenging Gov. Dan Walker for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, nor imply any political motivation for the inquiry, Stevenson reminded Illinois reporters at a news conference that Howlett's relationship with the steel company is an old story.

"I have a very high opinion of Mike Howlett, and I do not believe for a moment his impartiality as a public servant could be influenced by this relationship," Stevenson said in response to questions. "It's been known for at least two years."

Stevenson believes the Democratic national convention may deadlock in the Presidential nomination. Mindful of how William Singer's McGovern insurgents unsettled the Daley delegation in 1972, the senator wants Illinois to field a "harmonious" delegation this time.

He wants this so both he and Illinois can have a voice in selecting the Democratic candidate.

"I hope Stevenson delegates are elected," he said. "They will be a unifying influence and help move the convention in a responsible direction."

"It's in the best interest of the state to send a harmonious delegation to the convention." He continues to withhold public judgment on the Democratic candidates, saying three factors will influence his final decision: the demands of the office, the quality of the candidates, and the wishes of the public.

Stevenson's midwest itinerary includes Egypt, Saudi Arabia, Iraq, Iran, Syria, possibly Lebanon and Israel, to meet with heads of state and ranking ministers, if possible.

Aside from oil, Stevenson will discuss the "overriding concern of Congress," the Middle East conflict, and also Saudi Arabia's capacity for heavy investment in the United States.

Stevenson said the "possibility volatility of Saudi Arabia's investments in American banks" is one of the reasons for concern about the liquidity of U.S. banks.

He said that if the U.S. investment climate becomes inhospitable, Saudi Arabia might be inclined to accept pressure, particularly from Iran. That could have "adverse economic consequences everywhere," Stevenson believes.

He said he is not optimistic that the House and Senate can reconcile their natural gas deregulation bills and that it is likely that the weaker Senate version might prevail.

Stevenson said, "knowing the power of that industry," he believes the oil lobby may prevail and keep the pro-industry Pearson-Bentsen amendment passed by the Senate.

Stevenson said Pearson-Bentsen would add $20 billion to all consumer bills at an inflation rate of 1.7 per cent. This, in turn, would trigger cost-of-living clauses in wage agreements.

Congress, in his opinion, is eager to get the natural gas issue "off its back."

Consumers will not be aware of a direct impact and are therefore unlikely to protest loudly.

"I've been waiting for consumers to explode for the last two years," he said. "When they do, it's too late."

Stevenson said it might have been better if Congress had done nothing this year on deregulation. Then, at least, it could start over again to devise a reasonable ceiling to protect consumers and still give industry an incentive to produce more gas.

2 injured at Johnson-Amos

A collision on Johnson Road at Amos Avenue at 4:10 p.m. Thursday resulted in injuries to the driver and a passenger in one vehicle.

Police said a northbound car operated by Linda B. Crawford, 2337 Clark Ave., was halted for a light and was struck by an auto driven by Penny L. Rinehart, 4136 Kaseberg Lane. Miss Rinehart, 17, and her passenger, Miss Pam Rinehart, also 17, of the same Kaseberg Lane address, were taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital and admitted for observation.

Penny Rinehart sustained abrasions to both knees and loosened teeth from striking her head and mouth on the steering wheel. Pam Rinehart suffered a three-inch laceration to the left eyebrow, abrasions to the right knee and a laceration to the left knee. Both girls underwent a series of x-rays before being admitted.

Some farmers may need to pay early tax

Farmers may have to file their federal income tax return and pay that tax by Monday, March 1.

Ira S. Loeb, IRS director for central and southern Illinois, said that farmers who did not file a declaration of estimated federal individual income tax by Jan. 15 should file their 1975 tax return and pay all tax due by March 1 to avoid a penalty.

Farmers are defined as those persons who earned at least two-thirds of their 1975 gross income from farming.

IRS Publication 225, "Farmers Tax Guide," and 555, "Tax Withholding and Declaration of Estimated Tax," provide additional information and are available free at IRS offices.

Entryway is control center

By CATHERINE R. MAUCK
Madison County Extension
Adviser-Home Economics

The entryway to your home is more than a point of coming and going. And it includes more than the door itself.

Careful planning of the approach to the house and the area just inside the door will add to the comfort, convenience, and pleasure that a family gets from their home.

Entryways are control centers. From the entryway family members and guests should be able to reach other areas of the house without interfering with the activities in any other room.

Because doors today are not necessarily on the front or back of the house, it's more useful to think of "guest" and "service" entries.

Locating the guest entryway near the center of the house rather than at one end helps establish a better traffic pattern within the house.

The amount of space needed at an entryway varies with the size of the house, the activities provided for, and the number of people likely to use the area.

As a rule of thumb, a minimum of space of five feet by three feet for the door to swing open and one person to stand while entering or leaving is recommended. An area of five feet by seven feet will provide more comfort and convenience at the guest entryway.

Access to the work area is of prime importance in planning the service entrance. Supplies coming in generally will be used in the food preparation area.

A second major use of the service area is for family members coming and going. Family members entering may want to clean up before going to the table for a meal. So, a lavatory in the area may be useful. In addition, the work area should provide space for removing and storing coats, wraps, and boots.

Air circulation is important to help dry damp coats and shoes. Additional information on planning your entryways is available in the Midwest Plan Service's Family Housing Handbook. Single copies are available from your county Cooperative Extension Service for $2 or may be obtained by writing Extension Agricultural University, Illinois of Illinois, Urbana, Illinois 61801.

VAN FOR BURNED CHILDREN. Jack Schmacker, (center), Granite City Dodge, Inc., hands the keys of this 15-passenger Dodge van to High Priest and Prophet Dick Ervay of the Ainad Temple Divan. Ervay, a Granite Cityan, made the arrangements with Schmacker for use of the van to haul children to the Burns Institute in Cincinnati, Ohio, from the Ainad area. Because the Shrine treats the children without cost, Schmacker said, he feels the Shrine should have help in conveying a larger number per trip. In front of the van is Assistant Ainad Administrator Wayne Banks, past president of the Ainad Hospital Unit, which takes an average of 48 children back and forth to the Burns Center each year.
